5. Content and weight (ECTS)

5.1 Content

The Master of Science in Economics at Southern University can be completed without area of specialization or with specialization in European Studies (an English, International Programme).

Each semester, a number of core courses and advanced courses are offered in the Master's programme. Please consult the descriptions of graduate courses for further information about combination possibilities in the various areas.

5.2 Without area of specialization

To complete the Master's programme in Economics the following requirements must be met

- * 80 ECTS in the graduate courses offered, among these as a minimum 30 ECTS core courses
- * 10 ECTS on the seminar
- * 30 ECTS on the Master's thesis

Furthermore, the following regulations apply:

- optional courses, corresponding to 30 ECTS as a maximum can be replaced by a trainee period (see section 8)
- that all courses are preliminary approved as optional courses on the day studies at the Faculty of Social Science at the University of Southern Denmark, unless it appears from the curriculum that the cand.oecon. students cannot choose the courses.

In those cases where the student does not make use of an English-language course as part of an English-language education and where the instructor is Danish-speaking, the ordinary exams can be held in Danish, yet the question papers will be in English. At registration for exams the student has to inform whether he wants the exam held in Danish or English in the courses concerned.

8. Trainee period

A maximum of 30 ECTS (only under special circumstances) can be performed during a trainee period. The purpose of the trainee period is to integrate practical, economic, political and administrative problematics in the study programme. The trainee period consists of four months of work relevant for the study in the private/public sector or interest groups. Major parts of the work must include well-defined tasks.

In connection with the trainee period a written report describing and analysing the content of the trainee period must be prepared. The size of the report must be approximately 30 pages.

The trainee period must be approved in advance by a teacher who agrees to evaluate the report and the teacher responsible for the area of study concerned before starting the work. (A special form for approval in advance is available on request at the DUS-secretariat). A written agreement with the place of work must be entered. The agreement must include a description of the tasks and a name of a person to contact at the place of work.

At the end of the trainee period an application for final approval of the trainee period must be handed in to the Board of Economics Studies along with the report.

The report will be evaluated internally with the assessment "Passed/not passed".

9. Study groups

A study group consists of a smaller number of students who in cooperation with a teacher organize a course of instruction / study which in extent and level corresponds a courses at the Master Programme.

Study groups can be formed on the initiative of a group of students or on the initiative of the Department of Economics. 4 students are required for forming a study group. The students agree on topics and syllabus with a teacher and apply the Academic Study Board for permission to establish the study group. The application must contain the signature of the teacher and the names of the students. The Academic Study Board can consider such applications at any time of the year. Study groups can be completed and ended irrespective of the academic calendar. Study groups can only be ended in the form of essays. Registration for exam is not needed.

11. Master's thesis

11.1 Topic area

As a part of the Master Programme, the student must write a thesis within the subject area of social science. If the student intends to obtain a Master's degree within European Studies the topic area must relate hereto and the thesis must be written in English.

Thesis topic areas are approved by supervisor and teacher responsible for the area of study in connection with entering supervisor agreement. In the supervisor agreement supervisor states deadline for handing in. Normally the deadline is 1 year from the start of the writing of the thesis. In reexamination a new topic area must be chosen. In accordance with the above procedure the new topic area is agreed.

11.2 Elaboration and group work

The Master's thesis written in Danish, Norwegian or Swedish must be accompanied by a summary in English or another principal language according to arrangement with the supervisor/supervisors. The contents of the summary will form part of the evaluation of the Master's thesis. The summary must not exceed two pages.

Students may choose to write the Master's thesis individually or in groups of four students as a maximum. Each student must be responsible for a separate part of the thesis, since each part will be evaluated individually. For further information please refer to the Danish brochure "Grundlæggende råd, vejledning og krav til opgaveskrivning ved Samfundsvidenskab" (available through the University Bookshop).

The thesis must not exceed 100 pages including notes and reading list. If the thesis is prepared in groups the number of pages will be increased (200, 300, 400).

11.3 Registration

Having chosen a topic for the Master's thesis, a supervisor agreement must be filled in and handed in to the DUS-secretariat.

The agreement must include information about the topic of the Master's thesis and a deadline for handing in the project description. The agreement must be signed by the students and the supervisor(s).

11.4 Mid-term meeting

Before the expiration of the deadline, the students must hand in the project description at the DUS-secretariat.

The project description must be submitted for discussion at a mid-term meeting between the student(s) and the supervisor(s). The DUS-secretariat must be informed about time and place for the meeting in order to be able to announce the holding of the meeting seven days before the meeting. The mid-term meeting is open to the public unless other
